New York, September 13th. The World's apecial, in a letter dated London, says a report comes from a source that commands confidence, that the disagreement between Russia and Germany is serious. Russia was offended at the refusal of Germany to support the Russian demands at the Belgium Congress. It was more offended at the attempt made by Germany to assume the role of arbiter. of Europe in the recognition of the Spanish Government. My information points towards a complicated intrigue, whereby Russia seeks to embroil France and Germany in a quarrel opnorming the Carlists, and to use the quarrel for purposes of her own Russian diplomacy is too astute to be fully understood, but it may on useful to bear in mind the fact I have just

SODA WATER. When Joseph Sedley, Esq., that eminent price per bottle, we are charged fourpen Indian civilian, immortalised in "Vanity Fair," and even sixpence in an hotel coffee-room, partook so plentifully of punch as to make tipsy facturers dispense their commodity cheap love to Miss Rebecca Sharps, he naturally enough; but the profits clutched at by the a awoke the next morning removesful, and with a tailers are simply monstrous. There are, final splitting headache; and the great portrayer of a great many more things in the sociology.

Jos laments the hard fate of convivially-minded sods water than seem to be dreamt of in the gentlemen in the year 1815, who if they got philosophy of the public analyst of the paris drunk overnight had no soda-water wherewith of St. James's; but some of these days it is to ocol their parched throats in the morning, be hoped that the whole question of acrate but were fain to stake their thirst with small beverages will be decided worthy of the attention of Therein Mr. Thackerny fell into a slight tion of the British Medical Association at on chronological error. There may have been of their annual conferences, and that we she some hard-headed three-bottle men of the be told whether the extensive consumption period whose preferential restorative was a soda-water and cognate fluids is or is no dram of spirits; and the favourite restorative of weakening the tissues of the educated classes Queensborry, irroverently termed "Old Q.," was unbracing their nerves, and raining the u bottle of Imperial Tokay, which cost his Grace | digestion. two guiness a bottle, well bottomed with brandy. The age was an heroic one, and heroic remedies were in vogue. For all that, there was plenty of soda-water. Admited beverages artificially manufactured had been known for at least thirty years; various patents were registered for soda-water making in the first years of the century; and in a satire upon Life in London, pub- taken as the ruling price:-Patna 2575 to 85 lished in 1808, a cornet of Dragoous is described oash, quiet but steady; Benares $5421 to $5 as alarming the guests in the coffee-room of an hotel in Covent garden by the vociterous manner in which he calls for soda-water and brandy. Every reader of Byron, again, is familiar with his Lordship's pariety to upon hook and hai, about 400 chests, consisting chiefly of Bensoda-water, and the acerbity with which he bids gal opium. Fatimated stocks:—550 chests Mr. John Murray soud him no more poetry, but plenty of soda-powders instead. Carefully investigated, the fact would seem to be that agrated total 1,125 chests. drinks, though occasionally consumed for purposes of refreshment, were even more frequently ON LIMBON. chemist's shop, and not to the tavern, that the the new beverage was flercely denounced-not, perhaps, without reason-by Abernethy as a fluid impoverishing the blood, unhealthily iuflating the vessels, impairing by its gaseousness the digestion, and weakening, sometimes futully. the whole vital forces. The consumption of ON SHANGHAL. soda-water, nevertheless, continued to gain ground, and since 1830 has attained gigantic proportions, for two very simple reasons-first. that the babit of smoking, and next, that the habit of sobriety, had increased, is increasing, and will continue to increase among the educated classes in English society. The earlier forms of soda-water, and obviously the "soda-powders" alluded to above; con-. tained a number of chemical ingredients, including carbonate of soda and tarturic acid: China and Japan Marine Insurance-Tis. 80 and these with some salts needless to specify, continue to be employed in the fabrication of such imitations of mineral springs as Selzer and Pyrmont water. Potass-water has likewise an alkuline basis, and some years ago it was sought-to-obtain-popularity for a beverage called "Carrara" water, in which there was supposed to be a considerable quantity of lime. The public, however, grewalarmed at the thought of being gradually transformed into marble statues, without the certainty of a Pygmalion being in the neighbourhood, and " Carrava" water failed to "take" the town. Still, for a lengthened period that much-enduring seeker after knowedge, "the merest schoolboy," has been, we apprehend, aware that in ordinary soda-water there is scarcely any soda at all; that it does not pro-fess to contain soda, which is cheap enough in all conscience, but which possesses a flavour disagreeable to a multitude of palates; that when quiescent it is entirely tasteless; and that its effervescence is due to its being mechanically impregnated with fixed air, or with carbonic acid gas. In a soda-water factory, where there are muchines capable of making three hundred dozen a day, the "plant," the bottles, the corks, the wires, the strings, and the labels are everything; the material is scarcely worth mentioning. Thus it may seem somewhat late in the day for so eminent a medical authority as Dr. Lankester to come forward in his capacity of Medical Officer and Public Analyst of the Parish of St. James, and solemnly inform the public that soda-water_is. virtually destitute of soda. "The liquid," he remarks, " is sold in bottles "-It is certainly to travelling trader. White Sugar, 90 puckages, at $5.35, by Kwongnot vended in casks, or dispensed in uncovered hop to travelling trader. mugs like the curds and whey in St. James's Park-"and is professedly an imitation of some natural springs which contain an amount of carbornte of soda and carbonic acid." This was the case fifty years ago; but for a very long time soda-water has been as avowedly an artificial production as lemonade and ginger Subscribed Capital, beer, and it does not profess to imitate anything | Co-insures with French Lloyd, Paris,...$1,400,000 save—when the cork is removed—the Grandes Eaux of Versnilles on a very small scale. But French Company, Paris,..... Dr. Lankester contends that "the medicinal agency of the baverage, consists in its curbonate of soda," and that it becomes a matter of importance for sick people and convalescents, for whom this liquid is ordered, that they should have the Agents for the above Company, are pre-supposed quantity of soda in the water. It pared to grant Policies on Marine Risks to all LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S OUTFITTERS, heav be remarked that vory few physicians will allow their patients to dank sodu-water at all; they usually recommend potass, or Brighton seltzer, or Vicby or Apollinaris water. The sage public analyst of St. James's made an examination of bulf-a-dozen of soda-water purchased from chomists, druggists, and publicane; and he found that none of the selected samples contained a residuum of ten grains per bottle. that various other salts besides soda, were held in solution, and that in some of them there was a considerable quantity of organic matter. What does Dr. Lankester mean by "organic matter?" The conclusion at which he arrived | lowed upon Insurances effected with this Office. was that "none of these fluids were genuine mineral waters "-they no more profess to be mineral than mushrooms profess to be mutton chops; they are acrated waters, and some of the mineral brunnen of the Continent are still-that "most of them contained less saline matter than the mineral water they. represent, Cheltenham, Carlsbad, Kissingen, or Toplitz ?-and that the only thing they contained in tolerably certain quantity was carbonic acid gas. Upon this conclusion the public analyst of St. James' and "the merest schoolboy" at Current Rates. may cordially join hands; but we may add that had Dr. Lankester analysed a hundred and fifty | will be made on the premium charged on a thousand bottles of soda-water he would Insurances, such RETURN being payable on the have arrived at about the same conclusion. Sobweppe's soda water is said, we know not with what amount of truth; to contains few more grains of carbonate of soda than the other preparations; but everybody—except, apparenty. Dr. Lankester-is aware that soda-water is. not patronised because it contains soda or salt, but because it is effervescent, and a draught of it quenches for a time the thirst, and stimulates for a few seconds the whole nervous system. A medical contemporary, commenting on these revelations, finds it unpleasant to learn drink water laden with organic matter which is dangerously impure and charged with gas; and that, when to this is added the risk of occasional lead poisoning, it is not surprising that natural effervescent water of absolute purity and stable composition is beginning to acquire a preference over the sods and seltzer waters of commerce. We may be permitted to bint that if an article is perfectly pure it cannot be a compound, and that the term of "absolute purity" is incom-patible with "a stable composition." Furthermore, we may remark that the yield of all the springs of "hastural effervescent water" which all the divining-rods in the world could discover, however widely and ingeniously puffed those "natural effervescent waters" might be,-would be wholly inadequate to meet the demand for soda water to say nothing LIVERPOOL AND LONDON AND GLOBE To illustrate the vast scope of the work, the of potage and seltzer—among English-speaking people, or for cau de sels among the Latin races. As for the Gormans, they drink very little aerated or medicated water, save when they are out of health. Their substitute for sada, continges to be beer. The Americans render their acrated beverages not only additionally indigestible by joing them, but make them conducive to biliousness by mingling them with cream; they have, moreover, a curious dislike for soda with a basis of alcoholic stimulants-a form in which berated drinks when taken in inoderation are perhaps least noxious. As regards the liquid which it impregnated, in our so-called soda-water, with gas, the cyes of the "merest schoolboy" will convince him that soda-water when poured out is generally perfectly colourless. It is certainly oleanerlooking than Vicby; it scarcely ever leaves the slightest sediment; whereas, in the "natural" mineral waters of a still kind. salutary as they are no doubt, but disgusting in odour and revolting in taste, there is usually a considerable residuum of something which, if it be not " organic matter," buars a strong resemblance to an instalment of that peck of dirt | Not exceeding 10 days, 1 of the annual rate. which we are all bound to swallow before we Not exceeding I month, 1 do. do. die. Dr. Lankester would baye conferred a greater advantages on society if instead of encouraging an interence that the sodn-water manufacturers were noting in bad faith towards the public, he had drawn attention to the
